Donna LaGosh has served as executive director of the Oakland County Medical Society (OCMS) for the past ten years. OCMS is a physician advocacy association serving approximately 2,000 physicians who live and/or practice medicine in Oakland County. OCMS works in tandem with the Michigan State Medical Society to provide legislative, regulatory, legal and community service on behalf of allopathic and osteopathic physician members.

LaGosh serves on a number of committees at the state and local level related to issues affecting the physician community and the business of medicine. Prior to joining OCMS, LaGosh worked as Chief of Political Affairs at the Michigan State Medical Society for five years.
